Ballots are on the way to Bay Area Residents Plenty of Opportunities to Vote Early

Across the Bay Area, elections officials have dropped ballots in the mail and those ballots will be arriving in mail boxes this week. Bay Area Elections Officials are encouraging you to vote early!

All eligible California voters will receive a ballot in the mail due to the new law in California (AB37). Bay Area residents have more ways than ever before to cast their ballots.

- Mail your completed ballot to your Elections office in your postage paid return envelope.
- Drop your completed ballot in the return envelope in an official ballot drop box.
- You can vote in person starting October 10th through November 8th.
- You can even register and vote on the same day.

Don't forget to sign your envelope!

Whichever way you prefer to vote; your county Elections Department is offering options.

"The changes to how Californians are voting gives our residents more options, making voting easier, and improving when, where and how you vote," said Lynda Roberts, Marin County Registrar of Voters. "With so many options, we are really encouraging our Bay Area residents to vote early and take advantage of these great improvements to the voting experience."

The Coalition of Bay Area Elections Officials is urging residents to vote early for the November 8th election. Voting ends on November 8th at 8 pm, and there are many opportunities to vote before that.
